SimConnect Network Wizard 1

SimConnect Network Wizard

If you want to use FS-FlightControl from a computer other than the computer Prepar3d or FSX is running on, this section will guide you through everything needed to get that working.

FS-FlightControl uses the default mechanism of connecting to Prepar3d and FSX called SimConnect. So if you have any other add-on already connecting to flight simulator via SimConnect from your network computer, FS-FlightControl will work out of the box and you can completely skip this section.
